DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 1-8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Gavin (1,208,770).

The Gavin reference discloses an outlet arrangement for adapting a water receptacle including: an outlet member 14 having a first end adapted to seal against an outlet opening of either the smaller or the larger diameter in an inner side of the water receptacle, a second threaded cylindrical end 19 adapted to fit through an opening of the smaller diameter and at least one radial opening 22 in the second threaded end 19; and a locking collar 23 having an internal thread adapted to engage with the second threaded end of the outlet member 14, and adapted for screwing along the outlet member second threaded end into abutment with an outer side of the water receptacle, and an external thread 22' adapted to engage a waste outlet 30.

Regarding claims 2 and 3, the outlet member first end 14 includes a sealing region (an annular flange) adapted to seal against a waste outlet opening of either the smaller or the larger diameter.

Regarding claims 4, claim 1, wherein the collar includes a sealing region (an external annular flange 24) adapted to seal against the outer side of the water receptacle adjacent the waste outlet.

Regarding claim 8, the collar sealing region 24 is nearer the opposite end of the collar to that having the external thread.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claim 9 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Gavin (1,208,770).

Although the Gavin reference does not specifically disclose that the outlet arrangement is sized to adapt a sink or basin with an outlet opening suitable for use with 32 mm diameter waste outlet components and for use with 40 mm diameter waste outlets or traps, it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to select a certain size of the outlet arrange to best fit a certain outlet opening and a waste outlet of a sink or a basin to optimize its performance, since it has been held that discovering an optimum value of a result effective variable involves only routine skill in the art. In re Boesch, 617 F.2d 272, 205 USPQ (CCPA 1980).

Conclusion

5. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Hammann and Haldopoulos et al teach a drain arrangement having an outlet member with an radial opening.
